Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 02 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly cloudy in east, clear or sunny in west.

This Evening and Tonight:
Low cloud across much of the east will extend through the Central Belt, with some fog on high ground, The Southwest, the Highlands and the Northwest will be clear with frost and patchy fog developing.

Wednesday:
Mainly dry. The east will stay mostly cloudy, while the west has the best of the sunshine. A few showers later across the Northern Isles.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A little rain, hill snow moving south on Thursday then brighter, but colder,. A dry and sunny day on Friday, sharp night frosts. Saturday starting sunny then cloud, rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.